not work fast except when occasion demanded. From the seventh to the eighth he was almost helpless, and if Richmond had had any steam he could have knocked Wolgast out.

The newspaper decision gave the fight to Wolgast because of his big lead in the earlier rounds.

JEFFRIES BOXES CORBETT.

Two Former Champions Put on Gloves for Three Rounds.

Ben Lomond, Cal., June 10.—The bout between Jeffries and Corbett took place to-day, when the two former champions put on the gloves for three rounds. The first two were time, but the last round was a lively exchange. Corbett was scarcely hardened enough to stand the pace, and Jeffries was forced to head himself in check throughout. Beside Jeffries, Corbett looked as frail as Chynskil.

After the little bout with Corbett, Jeffries took on Chynskil for three rounds, in which he showed dazzling speed and an assortment of accurately placed punches. The boxing was done in the gymnasium, as the covering of the outdoor ring was not stretched far enough to suit Jeffries.

The former champion was hungry for boxing, and in the afternoon he called upon Bob Armstrong and brother Jack to don the gloves with him.

After the morning session Corbett and Chynskil left for San Francisco, where they are to appear together in an exhibition to-morrow afternoon. Both will return in time to participate in Sunday's work out.

BOXING DAY AT CAMP.

Johnson Spends Some Time in Ring. Little to Begin Suit at Once.

San Francisco, Cal., June 10.—This was boxing day at Jack Johnson's training camp. Encouraged by the showing made yesterday, the champion decided to forego his usual day of rest, and he gave his sparring partners an interesting session in the ring. During the morning, accompanied by Al Kaufman, Johnson roiled over twelve miles of road work at a pace which made Kaufman show signs of distress.

George Little, Johnson's former manager, engaged counsel to-day, and said he should begin suit at once to compel the colored champion to abide by the terms of his contract, which, it is asserted, provided that, for a share of the receipts of the ring contest, Little is to act as manager of the pugilist's affairs. This contract, Little claims, has nearly a year yet to run.

WOLGAST FRACTURES ARM.

Fight Against Redmond a Failure, but He Is Given Decision.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 10.—Ad Wolgast's first fight since he took the lightweight championship from Battling Nelson on February 23 was a failure, and the champion fractured his left arm. He fought ten rounds with Jack Redmond, of Milwaukee, in the same ring where he got his start to the championship.

In the fourth round Wolgast injured his left arm on one of Redmond's elbows, and in the seventh he snapped a bone in the forearm, about three inches above the wrist. Up to the time of the mishap he had a good lead, but he did not work fast except when occasion demanded. From the seventh to the eighth he was almost helpless, and if Richmond had had any steam he could have knocked Wolgast out.

SHOT UP STORE

Negro Missed His Man, but Smashed Big Showcase.

As the result of a row over a woman, Tom Smith, colored, chased Eugene McCutchen, colored, into a store at 2209 West Broad Street, last night.

McCutchen, colored, said a well known shot at the feeling man. None of the bullets struck McCutchen, but one shattered a big glass showcase.

After firing all the cartridges in his pistol and failing to puncture the anatomy of McCutchen, who did a Marathon down the street to safety, Smith pocketed his weapon and fled. The shooting created excitement in the neighborhood. McCutchen notified the police and Bicycle Officer C. B. Samuels arrested Smith in a house on West Moore Street. He will have a hearing this morning in Police Court.

Captain Epps Finds Money.

While walking along the street last night, Captain Epps, in charge of the Second Police Station, found a small sum of money, which he is holding for the owner to call for. Captain Epps said he is sure the money was lost the money, and he will be glad to turn it over to the right man.

Shocked While at Work.

J. W. Wade, of 608 Church Street, was seriously shocked by an electric shock yesterday afternoon on Belle Isle. He was employed at the Old Dominion Hall Works. Wade was attended by Ambulance Surgeon Gamblin.

Noel Goes to Chair.

Thomas Noel, colored, of Norfolk county, was yesterday sentenced to the penitentiary by the State.

Raleigh City Bonds Sold.

Raleigh, N. C., June 10.—Thirty-year 5 per cent. Raleigh bonds were sold to-day at a premium of .03076 and one year's accretion. The bonds were sold at $125.000 municipal building bonds and $25,000 refunding bonds.

There were a dozen bidders from out of the State.

SHOWS IMPROVEMENT.

Dr. Waugh Says There Is Change for Better in Condition of Mrs. Daniel.

Lynchburg, Va., June 10.—Dr. Waugh in his bulletin concerning the condition of Senator Daniel, issued to-night, says:

"I am gratified to be able to report that Senator Daniel shows a distinct mental improvement during the past week or ten days. The more gentle and generous elements of his nature seem to be uppermost, and it was not difficult to induce him to talk and to recite from memory in a way that was pleasing and satisfactory. He seemed himself to be pleased at making the effort and at his success. In every other way his condition is about the same as it has been of late."

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS.

Elects Principal for New High School at Amelia.

Amelia, Va., June 10.—The Board of Education of Giles District met here to-day to elect a principal for the new high school at Amelia.

Prof. A. R. Plank, who has been principal of the high school here for the past two years, was elected to the position of principal of the new high school at Amelia.

Two students of the school will be employed in the school as follows: Misses Mary Taylor, Jayne Irving, Mrs. S. A. Wootton, and Miss Courtney Taylor.

CONTEST NOT DECIDED.

Two Districts Fighting for Location of Public High School.

Landover, Va., June 10.—The contest between Litwinton and Wheaton for the location of the public high school to be established in the upper part of the White Chapel District has not yet been decided. The application for an injunction restraining the district board from establishing the school near Wheaton has been withdrawn, as the district board assured the complainants that no further steps would be taken until the matter could be finally determined by the county trustee's election board.

In such cases, it is expected that the appeal board will meet in a few days and decide the question at issue.

CASE CONTINUED.

Charges Against Alleged Absconding Cashier Will Be Heard in October.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Bristol, Va., June 10.—Foy W. Dulany, the absconding cashier, who was captured in Jamaica, and who is alleged to have embezzled many thousands of dollars of State and county money, then, aided with his stenographer, today succeeded in having his case continued until the October term of the Circuit Court at Jonestown.

The court required a bond of $7,500, and although Dulany is said to have exhausted his money months ago, he had no trouble to make the bond.

Police Patrol Can't Speed.

Justice Crutfield yesterday ordered bicycle officers to report the police patrol drivers whenever they exceeded the speed limit, declaring that there is no sense in driving the car at such a rapid pace. Bicycle Officer Tomlinson, attached to the Second Station, was summoned before the Justice and given sweeping instructions to report violations by the police patrol drivers.

AROUND THE HOTELS

"Members of the Virginia Legislature will not realize the good they did at the last session unless they talk to drummers in the years to come, provided the new hotel bill is properly enforced. As a rule we are not kickers. In fact, drummers are the most long-suffering people on the face of the earth. Night after night we put up with accommodations which would make an angel weep. We occupy rooms which are not only filthy, but sometimes hundreds of other animal forms, and we sit down to meals which would reduce the appetite to a state of abject misery—in his sides if not in his mind."

"When I think of what I have put up with during the past fifteen years in many of the hotels of Virginia I am moved to wonder that my wife has not collected my insurance long since. Rubbish, institution, ignorance, have greeted me of my profession everywhere. There are men in this State calling themselves hotel-keepers who could not conduct a livery stable so that it would be fit for the horses. Some of them don't know any better, and these the new law will teach. Others do know better, and these must be forced to obey."

"It is vastly better than nothing. No longer will we go to a hotel and find the same sheet on the bed, unchanged since our departure a month before. If fires break out we will have some slight chance of escaping from the room. There is still nothing to keep flies, with their bacteria-laden feet, out of the dining-room, but with the enlarged powers of the State Board of Health, while it is engaged in enforcing the Harwood law, perhaps we may see some other incidental reforms."

"If the new Board of State Law Examiners lives up to the expectations of the Virginia bar, over the Old Dominion," declared a well known lawyer at the Jefferson last night. "They have a great opportunity to raise the standards for admission to this high profession, and those who know the men lately appointed by Governor Alexander will be the case."

"Everywhere the proper authorities are making it harder to get admitted to the bar. And that is well, for high standards will eliminate the unworthy. The more a man knows the better he is. The State Board of Health, while it is engaged in enforcing the Harwood law, perhaps we may see some other incidental reforms."

"I know something about the way it has been in Richmond. In the old days everybody got by the courts. Men who failed to pass their work at college in the freshman class were given a second chance. The more they passed the examination for entrance into a profession which should require a sound and high education. The more they passed the examination in a certain State over a law examining board. As a result seven passed and eight failed. They don't stand tough like they used to be."

"Every right-minded lawyer welcomes the establishment of the bar board in Virginia. It is a long-felt need, and we shall have better, more learned men at the bar."

"Pineapples are certainly growing in popularity as a fruit for ordinary folks," said a well known Florida fruit man at the Jefferson last night. "If you will look on the pineapples in the next time the new law comes through with his ware, in about every other case he will be selling pineapples."

"I speak wholly of the ripe fruit, not of the kind used for canning purposes. That is a different matter. It is getting to be a common question, 'Have you a pineapple on the hip?'"

Traveling men are much disgusted with the existing cool damp and generally unseasonable weather. Spring shows, they say, are moving slowly, and merchants are buying only what they can keep there in some of the next time the new law comes through with his ware, in about every other case he will be selling pineapples."
